THE WEEK IN CONGRESS.

UTTERLY IMPOSSIBLE TO FORECAST THE PROCEEDINGS.

The House liable to adjourn on the 15th of July, but is it impossible to forecast the exact date--Night Session in the House to be held hereafter--Miss Burton.

Washington, July 6. In the universal anxiety to get to the day of adjournment, there will be such a rab of work during the remainder of the session of congress that it will be almost impossible to forecast the proceedings. It is understood that the house committees on ways and means will shortly report a resolution to adjourn on Thursday, the 15th instant, and that adjournment will be made not later than sometime during the subsequent week. The following week, it is said, will be the most frequently mentioned as the date, in the event the session extends the same from the 15th. With only twelve or fifteen working days remaining the changes in the order of business will be few, robust, and unimportant, so that it will be easy to program a resolution covering more than forty-eight hours.

The house refused to adjourn over, and will therefore be in session the legal holiday.

The day is now involving suspense day in the house, and it is not known whether it will general, as the general deficiency bill is pending and hardly finished. Following this measure will come the fortification bill.

As will contain provisions for keeping up the fortifications, and will not be legislated with little difficulty.

A flood of business is on the docket when the fortifications, the last of the appropriation bills, is out of the way. The land fortresses, the canal, the order of battle, the one- and two-mile roads, the state commissaries among them; also the joint resolution by Mr. Morrison, providing for the extinguishing of the public debt with the appropriation bill.

On Friday morning the committee on internal revenue will call in the voted appropriation bills, it has selected as the test of the president's veto. It is expected to occupy the day and provoke a lively debate. The committee on order of battle will be in session on Saturday, and the bill will be voted on Sunday. The reconstruction bill, with $115,000,000 in the hands of the navy, will be voted on Monday, and the bill for the navy appropriation will be voted on Tuesday.

TUESDAY, JULY 6, 1886.

The Ashland Independent has been straddling the political fence for a long while, fell off on the Republican side last week, and is now a red-hot advocate of the g. o. p.

The telephone investigation didn't pan out to suit the New York Sun, and other papers that have been hounding Attorney General Garland. The report of the committee states that no government official was guilty of any wrong in the matter under investigation.

The railroad proposition is not a scheme to swindle the city out of any money. It is only a ploy to raise cash with which to pay for the right of way at once. Cash must be had for this purpose. The county subscription is not available—it is to be paid until the road is completed. Where is the money to come from, if the city does not lend her credit to the guarantors? They shouldn't be asked to go down into their own pockets for the cash to further a public enterprise.

DURING the first six months of this year, more railroads were constructed in this country than ever before for a like period of time. The Louisville Times says: "There is no better test of prosperity than this. Capital is the most ardent coward in the world, and when it engages in the extending of railroads and the building of new lines, it is an evidence that confidence has returned, and prosperity always follows confidence. It should be remembered in this connection that we have a Democratic administration at Washington."

SAYS the Cincinnati Telegram: For many years there has been only one line of railroad between Washington and New York. Of course the travel is immense. On the road there are the cities of Washington, Baltimore, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Trenton, Newark, Jersey City, Brooklyn and New York. The B. & O. people are trying to get an opportunity to build a new line; it is an evidence that confidence has returned, and prosperity always follows confidence. It should be remembered in this connection that we have a Democratic administration at Washington."

The road, like our new gas works, is going to be built all the same. Such blackmail should be cultivated. It will benefit the traveling public millions of dollars each year, and the new gas works will benefit the people of Cincinnati a million a year. Gas will be furnished for fifty cents per thousand, and the there is money in it.

No Delay.

The recent vote in the county and the city abundantly justifies the action of the council last Thursday night. The Citizens' Committee claim that if the subscription of the county is not to be practically thrown away, the city must advance the money for the rights of way at once and secure immediate completion of the road. With prompt action in the premises the great enterprise will be completed they say within eight months from to-day. The wiseacres who affect to see danger and defects in the proposition, ought to know, if they have any business capacity or experience at all, that, in an enterprise of this sort, nothing is more dangerous than delay. But, very curiously, men who have had their fingers burnt repeatedly by all sorts of bountiful speculations and who are notoriously devoted to the advancement of their own selfish interests, are invariably prominent as croakers and obstructives when any legitimate and solid enterprise is to be pushed for the public good. An enlightened selfishness would show them that their true interests and that of their poorer neighbors are the same.

Which?

The opposition to the proposal that the city should advance the amount of money necessary to secure the right of way for the Southside road, comes chiefly from two classes of persons—those who are honestly ignorant of the intent and details of the proposition, and those who willfully misrepresent and pervert its terms. A word of explanation almost invariably satisfies the former; while the latter as a general rule will be satisfied with nothing less than with the failure of a great enterprise. The conduct of this latter class is singularly in contrast with that of the gentlemen who came forward at a critical moment in the history of this enterprise, and assumed the responsibilities of guarantors until the community at large could legally act. It was an extraordinary evidence of public spirit and although their signatures do not make their contract bankable" paper upon which funds can be raised, the guarantee satisfied Mr. Huntington that he could safely proceed with his work and give our people an opportunity to place their city, at a very insignificant expense, upon the greatest trans-continental railway of modern times. Which of these classes, fellow-citizens, is the more worthy of your confidence and respect?

THE Southern Exposition (Aug. 28 to Oct. 23) will be the only exhibition in the South this year. It is the largest institution of its kind now in the world. Its relation to the population and productive areas of this country is quite singular and its success is unexampled.

WE have at our office a sample of the first new wheat received by A. Finch & Co. It was grown by Wm. H. Roe, of the Orangefield neighborhood, was delivered yesterday, is of the Fultz variety and yielded twenty-five bushels per acre, but the quality is pronounced not as good as expected.

The closing entertainment by the "Indian queen" and his gang of followers last evening attracted a crowd which was estimated at 5,000 people. Anything in the nature of a "free show" presents an irresistible attraction to the citizens of Maysville and vicinity. At the close of performance, they "struck tents" and marched the Boston for Cynthiamburg, where they will give their audiences a "change of programme" every evening.

WHAT is selling in this market today at 65 cents per bushel. This is but 5 cents lower than the price prevailing at corresponding date two years ago, while in New York and Liverpool prices are fully 15 cents per bushel lower than at that period. How long present prices can be maintained here, it is difficult to state. It is certainly to be hoped that prices may go no lower, as in that case the profit to the farmer would certainly be very light. Truly, this seems an era of low prices for farm products.

MR. PERRY JEFFERSON, who represents the biggest tobacco warehouse in the world—the Globe—is one of the best known tobacco men of Kentucky. He understands how to get a shipment to the Globe. He proceeds, on entering a farm house, to toy with the baby, chuckle it under the chin, compliment its beauty and other fine points, and then clinches the friendship of the good housewife by saying how much the baby resembles the mother. With her friendship, when the husband is wavering as to what house to ship to, he is soon convinced what to do. It is not necessary to say that Mr. Jefferson halls from old "Kaintuck" and Mason County.—Western Tobacco Journal.

THE Congressional Contest.
The following communication is taken from the Times-Democrat, of Flemingsburg:

FLLEMINGSBURG, Ky., JUNE 29, 1886.

Editor Times-Democrat: Since the aspirants for Congress are so actively pursuing their claims to the right to represent us, we would be well for our people to look well at the situation. Politically considered Fleming County certainly owes nothing to either Bath, Boyd or Mason. Neither does she owe anything to either of the gentlemen from whom she has received her name. The election of Congress is taken as the best evidence of the character of the men who are so anxious to represent us. Garrett Wall is the man most entitled to the place by reason of his ability as a lawyer, his fine social qualities and the fact that he comes from Mr. Wadsworth's country and can carry it over that gentleman's name with great credit. This is the case Flemingsburg should look at the question, situation as a matter of choice as to the ability, worth and running qualities of those gentlemen. Without making any fight against them, it is time for us to stand up and be counted. AFTER THE ELECTIONS.

THE RESULT NOT ENCOURAGING TO MR. GLADSTONE.

The Liberal Party Gains Five Seats and Loses Six—A Very Light Vote Cast—The Gentry of London Not Affected by the Elections—Our American Ministers.

London, July 4.—The results of the pollings do not encourage hopes of Gladstone's majority. Of the unopposed returns, of which a great majority are Conservative, seventy-three members are returned. The Gladstonians counted on considerable gains. They have gained five seats and lost six. The gains, with the exception of Carlisle, are due to the transfer of the Irish vote in constituencies where the Irish are numerous, and where the Irish vote is also heavy. The Conservative gain two. The Liberals expected to lose Hereford and Hastings, but not Falmouth and South Bristol, and still less Salterton.

Mr. Caine's victory at Barrow is a brilliant one. There was no man the Gladstonians tried so hard to defeat. He now polls more votes than when the Liberal caucus supported him, and majority having increased nearly one-half.

Leeds rejects Mr. Kitson, the local shadorth and one of Mr. Gladstone's favorites, whose return was thought certain, and re-elects Mr. Lyne. Playfair by a narrow victory. Hartlepool's Conservative returns the same city are a thousand less than last year, his weak Tory opponent also losing a thousand. Sir Thomas Brassey, who fails to find in Liverpool the seat for which he abandoned Hartlepool.

Lord Randolph Churchill's manifesto has not hindered his election by any increased majority in Paddington. Mr. Gladstone's election for Ruth is amazing. When no local candidate could be found to oppose the late Mr. Gurney, Mr. Gladstone telegraphed, insisting on a nomination which was made at the last moment. Mr. Jacks, a feeble person thereupon retired. The independent supplier Mr. Gladstone's opponents in Edgbaston, London, who failed to return for a new discourse on his impious former.

The total of opposed and unopposed returns give 117 Conservatives and Unionists, and 44 Ministerials. This apparent preponderance of the former is only momentary, as it is due to a great number of unopposed Tory seats.

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the election is the smallness of the vote. Almost everywhere the total vote shows a decrease from last year, which hardly looks as if the people were more interested in the question of home rule. The Ministerialists lose more than the Conservatives, while the importance of the Irish vote, if one may judge from the recent performance, has been overstated. The feeling among all classes that the election returns come in, was one of despondency.

Since Mr. Gladstone's return to Haverhill, he has flooded the constituencies with letters and telegrams in behalf of his own candidates, and has been most successful. It is remarkable, but the clearest up-to-date points and fails to simplify the issue. Mr. Bright, whose weighty speech in Birmingham on Tuesday produced a deep impression, charged Mr. Gladstone with having concealed his thoughts on November 1, in the meaning of his bill. Mr. Gladstone replies in a letter. The letter leaves the land purchase question as much in obscurity as ever. Mr. Chamberlain, like Mr. Bright, has also opposed, reluctantly, Mr. Gladstone's appeal to trust the people, and said the people were not being trusted; they are being tricked, since no man can say what is the policy of the government. Mr. Gladstone, so far from taking the people into his confidence, has not even taken his own colleagues into his confidence. They give conflicting accounts of his meaning and intention on vital points.

A dramatic scene occurred at the end of Mr. Caine's year-opening speech. He appealed to the pride and patriotism of Englishmen, who had confronted the world in arms. "Then is British courage dead?" he asked. "Are you going to quail before the threats of conspirators and rebels, before the darts of traitors?"

This question the vast audience answered by rising in a body with cries of "Never," and prolonged cheering.

Amid this ever deepening conflict the gentry of London continues to decline; but seldom does a single seat of consequence and royalty of every grade have been more huey with public and social functions. The Prince of Wales began on Sunday with luncheon at Mrs. Sande's, and heard Mrs. Foster, an American, recite, whom he much applauded.

A decision of the court of appeal finally closes the door of the divorce court to Sir Charles Dilke as correspondent in the Crawford case. He appears to be the only man who may appear as witness in the Queen's Procurator's choice to summon him. The argument that the exclusion involved great hardship to Sir Charles Dilke was pressed in the court. The judges held every opportunity had been given him to appear at the first trial and it was only his own fault if he failed to submit him self for cross-examination.

The American minister and Mrs. Phelps have issued invitations for a reception on Monday evening in celebration of the 4th of July. The formal program will be given every day by a notice in the newspapers. Invitations are now sent to all Americans who have called at the legation.

The Panama Canal Lottery.

PARK, July 6.—The committee appointed to draw the lottery for the Panama canal lottery scheme and who were ready to draw the lottery bill from the tribunes of parliament if necessary. They announced that the canal would be an international advantage. It was preferable that a French company should accomplish the work. They consider also that it is their duty to support an enterprise which the public began.

Timothy Healy's Speech.

London, July 4.—Timothy Healy, in a speech at Newry, said that union had ever been a curse and a blight. "But now," he said, "divided by Gladstone, we are going to get rid of it forever."

New York, July 6.—The Star publishes a lengthy article proposing union of New York city and its suburbs under one municipal government. It says that the union would be under which the population of New York city would be three million. It is proposed to take in Brooklyn, Long Island city, Astoria, East New York, New Lots, all of Kings and Richmond counties, and part of Westchester and Queens counties.

great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would highly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was suffering with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kidder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel safe, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterport, Vt., writes: "My young child, two years old, was suffering from a disease of the bowels and intestines, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in weight that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Scrofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of

USE HALL'S HAIR RENEWER.

It is a medicinal preparation, and, at the same time, an elegant and cleanly toilet article. Its action upon the scalp is healthful. It nourishes the glands which support the hair, and causes thin, dry hair to become thick, soft, and vigorous. It restores the color of youth to locks which have become faded with age or disease; and relieves and cures itching, caused by humors of the scalp. Dr. George Gray, of Boston, writes: "I have great pleasure to testify to the wonderful effects produced by Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, as observed by me in very many cases. IT WILL CERTAINLY RESTORE THE HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. It cleanses the head of dandruff, and leaves the hair soft, glossy, and beautiful!" F. T. Sandelin, 1010 Spruce st., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "After unavailingly trying a number of preparations to prevent my hair from falling out, and realizing that I was far behind the times, I made, as last a new Hair Renewer. I have used only four bottles of the Renewer, and am perfectly satisfied that it is the best preparation in the market for checking the falling out of hair, invigorating the hair roots, and promoting a new growth."
